

THE CONVENTION

It would not be strange if a dark horse should come out from the crowd of candidates for the position of Governor. Probably neither of the aspirants whose names have been presented to the convention will be nominated and certainly there is nothing to indicate that the convention will take up. It may yet go back to Tilden in sheer desperation and force him to accept the nomination. It may yet go back to Tilden in sheer desperation and force him to accept the nomination. It may yet go back to Tilden in sheer desperation and force him to accept the nomination.

The rank and file as well as some of the leaders who really think that the convention will do nothing more than to elect a candidate for the position of Governor. Under who is a decidedly stagey person prefers to make his entrance without being announced in the regular way. He wants to swoop down like the stage villain who proceeds to save the victim from the clutches of the assassin. Under who is a decidedly stagey person prefers to make his entrance without being announced in the regular way. He wants to swoop down like the stage villain who proceeds to save the victim from the clutches of the assassin.

There is none of that steady working up toward one candidate which was seen early in the republic convention nor is there any of that brazen certainty of success before the country to lend such enthusiasm as was then.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

During the first six months of this year there have been 3510 failures in the United States, with aggregate liabilities of $124,991,232 being an increase of 473 failures over the same period in 1895, with double the amount of liabilities.

A careful study of the business outlook issued by E. Russell & Co. says that there is as much money in the country as there was six months ago, and that there is more to be hoped for.

It has been decided in a Philadelphia court that it is not a crime to take money from the top of a United States mail box. This is good news for the thieves, and will tend to elevate the occupation of stealing from the lowly reputation to which it has fallen.

The democratic papers generally condemn the president for vetting the Fitz John Porter bill, and some of them assert that it was done in support of Logan. But no one as yet has impeached the soundness of his constitutional objections to the bill.

Some of the newspapers are finding much fault with President Arthur on account of his appointment of outsiders to territorial offices. They seem not to understand that the Chicago platform has no particularly brooding effect upon a president that convention did not nominate.

It is asserted that the advocacy of Governor Cleveland's nomination by dissatisfied republicans has injured his chances of securing the prize. The rank and file of the democratic party have as the most rapid republicans have, and naturally the rank and file of the democratic party have as the most rapid republicans have.

PROHIBITION AND HIGH TAXES

The prohibitory liquor law which went into effect in Iowa the fourth day of this month has already aroused discussion on the practical merits of such a measure. Reports from the state show so far as we can judge that the nations are still doing a good business, and that the prohibitory politicians who voted for the law are not doing as well as they expected.

Every experiment has been tried of what we have any knowledge concerning the effect of the prohibitory law. The prohibitory law has been tried of what we have any knowledge concerning the effect of the prohibitory law.
